

Cook Memorial Library

community survey

Cook Library is developing a new strategic plan. This survey is part of that process. In response to ideas expressed at community conversations this spring, we are focusing this year's survey on outreach. Your input will help us to provide library programs and services that are truly needed.

How can the Cook Memorial Library help to bring different groups in our community together?

Choose one answer, the one that you feel most strongly about.

- Do nothing
- Create fun informal ways for people to come together (like movie nights, potlucks, etc.)
- Develop programs around shared interests (like board game club, local history group, etc.)
- Organize listening sessions with a moderator to discuss controversial issues in a respectful space.

What kinds of outreach should our library concentrate on in the coming year?

Choose one answer, the one that you feel most strongly about.

- Deliver library materials to homes (we do this now, but could do more)
- Bring library programs and materials to preschools, schools, day care facilities
- Demonstrate how to use library's online materials like downloadable books and research tools at schools and community group meetings
- Explore ways to provide a bookmobile on a regular route around town
- Other:

What age group could we do more to reach?

Choose one answer, the one that you feel most strongly about.

- Babies through preschoolers
- School-age children
- Teens
- Young adults (19-29 year-olds)
- Parents and grandparents raising grandchildren
- Working adults
- Newly retired adults
- Older adults

Our summer reading program theme this year is "Libraries Rock!"

What does our library rock (do well)?

What could we rock better?

What do you rock?

What do you want to rock?
